

Gusta & Gusto Publishing House – Our Manifesto

Shaped by the Spirit of the Zeitgeist

Through its messages, the publishing house turns the spotlight on the world's stages and audiences – opening the universe of storytelling with its literary scores – Blossoms of the past – buds of the future – garden of the present.

Our literary offering opens spaces and windows with respect to the diversity of people in this world – and to stories that need time.

Storytelling is a necessity – like the call from the orchestra pit as surprising as life itself.

Gusta & Gusto Publishing House is an overture for our readers accessible, audible, and tangible.

Our three series spring from the depths of an inexhaustible source. They create a panorama – a journey through memories, experiences, wishes, and diverse perspectives – landscapes filled with emotions, sounds, and a broad spectrum of moods, climates, and situations.

Rooted and wise as the ancient olive tree,
Young as the gentle stroke of a butterfly's wing,
Timeless as salt.

Each series is a journey – an arabesque with its own signature.
